THE MIGHTY DOLLAR
You may talk about the teacher, teaching just for fame,
Or the minister a preaching just for reputation's name,
The teacher would be absent and the pulpit lose its scholar,
If at any time or place you should take away their dollar.

You may talk about the farmer, farming just for health,
Or the merchant selling goods if it adds not to his wealth—
The merchant would be stranded and the farmer be would holler
If by any locus poncus you should take away their dollar.

Search the earth, its seas and air
And all the land upon it,
You cannot find a single thing that doesn't stand upon it.
The miser, too, I most forgot, would rise up in his choler
You'd hear that eagle squeal a mile if you should take his dollar.

Jap Girls Progressive Yearn to Be Detectives

TOKIO, Jan. 12.—(By mail)—Many progressive young Japanese women aspire to become detectives, says the Yomato in a recent resume of activities of self-supporting women. On the average two dozen women apply at a certain local detective bureau each month seeking employment as "detectives." The bureau points with pride to two shining exponents of the profession, Miss Yuki, Nakahara and Miss Tsuruko Sato, through whose efforts many difficult cases have been solved.

The majority of employed girls are in factories, about 6,500 of these working in Tokyo. Out of 317 factories investigated by the city social bureau, in 28 the girls were found working more than 12 hours a day. The average wage is ¥25.16 a month.

About 2,000 women make a living teaching "nagauta" the singing to Japanese music of the shamisen. These make an income of about ¥100 a month.

Bus conductors are those most noticeable to foreigners in Tokyo. They number about 150. Others better educated gain the better positions in the company as office clerks or inspectors.

There is always a shortage of telephone girls, 6,000 being required by the 15 exchanges in the city, and where girl employees have proved of great usefulness in the railway offices as ticket sellers. They get up to ¥60 salary. Those employed as shop girls in big department stores receive ¥30. The largest department store employs as many as 500.

The largest income is commanded by the hair dressers. Those in high class salons receive as much as ¥1,000 monthly, and those of the poorer districts ¥200.

About 500 girls are employed as ushers in theaters and moving picture shows. There are teachers, doctors, seamstresses, nurses, professional musicians graduated from the foreign music academy, journalists, magazine writers and painters. To these may be added in the country the women horse conductor and the girl who dives for shell fish.

1400 MEMBERS OF CHOCTAW HELD IN DEPLORABLE STATE

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 10.—Fourteen hundred members of the Choctaw tribe residing in the state of Mississippi are in a deplorable condition, in the opinion of Peter J. Hudson of Tuskahoma, member of the Oklahoma Choctaw tribe, who has returned from a month's mission among the Mississippi Indians. Hudson and the late Monsigneur W. H. Ketcham of Oklahoma were delegated by Indian Commissioner Burke to make an investigation of the condition of the tribe in that state. Monsigneur Ketcham died suddenly at Philadelphia, Mississippi, while engaged in the work.

The 1,400 Mississippi Choctaws are divided into ten clans, and they are constantly quarreling, according to Hudson. Originally their ancestors were members of the Choctaw tribe that migrated to Indian territory in the early '30's. They have made no progressive steps in the past 100 years, Hudson says, and he declares their greatest need is education. Their sole occupation is farming, and as such they are tenant farmers of whites.

"I am firmly convinced that by education alone can the customs and barriers of a hundred years' standing be broken, says Hudson.

"to impress the Choctaws with the responsibilities of citizenship. Today they exercise no right of franchise and are not on terms of social equality with the white citizens of Mississippi.

It will require many years to bring about the education of the young Choctaws of Mississippi."

WIRELESS SERVICE IS PLANNED FOR YOSEMITE PARK

YOSEMITE, Calif., March 10.—Commercial wireless telephone and telegraph service is planned for Yosemite valley, where conditions, resulting from the valley being a "hole in the ground" were said by many wireless experts to be against successful operation of a radio station.

Yosemite's granite cliffs rise straight into the air for three, four and five thousand feet, yet a wireless station on the floor of the valley recently has been getting news reports, weather predictions, market quotations and plenty of good music. Two of the giant trees on the valley floor serve as aerials.

Government authorities have put in a station which will be used to keep the valley in touch with the outside world when storms drive down the wires. The valley station also will talk with another station on Glacier Point, one of the park's show places, which is 3,254 feet sheer above the floor.
